Taxation Without Representation In District No. 1

Assessed valuation of Contra Costa County $90,438,530.00
Assessed valuation of District No. 1 $38,595,345.00
(District No. 1 takes in the western end of the county from El Cerrito to Selby.)
Total Taxes Collected in County last year $2,858,679.00
Total Taxes collected in District No. 1 last year $1,081,210.00
Number of elected officers in county court house 13
Number of elected officers from this district now in county court house 0
Representation that District No. 1 is entitled to in the county court house on the basis of paying forty per cent of the total tax of the county 5.2
Registered voters in this county 25,096
Registered voters in District No. 1 11,677

And district No. 1 is only asking the voters to place four men in the county court house. The office of coroner although a county post is not in the court house, has not been included in the total of thirteen.

Registration figures show that 46 per cent of the total voters of the county are in District No. 1 and for the privilege of living in this district do not have a single officer in the county court house.

Back in 1776 the colonies resented taxation without representation and took drastic measures to remedy the evil. The Boston Tea Party is one of the outstanding events of the troubles of the early colonies and the prospects at present are that some of the unwanted cargo which has been saddled on District No. 1 will be dumped into the bay a week from Tuesday.

Experience may be the mother of efficiency in some cases but it is not always a foregone conclusion. The man who never saw an automobile didn't believe that such a thing existed and if it did exist it wouldn't run.

That brings us back to the old question of which came first, the chicken or the egg.

The county, with District No. 1 donating forty per cent of the tuition fees, may have been conducting a school for some county officials for many years but that is by no means an indication that they have been apt pupils. Age and the time we may have been on a job doesn't signify that we are making good, it merely indicates that we have lived a little longer than the other fellow.

DISTRICT NO. 1 HAS ENOUGH VOTES TO INSIST THAT IT HAVE SOME REPRESENTATION AT THE COUNTY COURT HOUSE. THERE IS EVERY INDICATION THAT THESE VOTERS WILL GO OUT A WEEK FROM TUESDAY AND MARK THEIR BALLOTS IN A WAY THAT WILL PUT AN END TO DISTRICT NO. 1 BEING A SECTION WITHOUT REPRESENTATION.

J. E. Brunscher City Trustee Of Martinez Dies In The Fabiola Hospital at Oakland

J. F. Brunscher, Martinez city trustee and for six years a mortician and a deputy coroner passed away at the Fabiola hospital in Oakland yesterday following an illness of six months.

Brunschers death followed an operation for relief from a spinal ailment and a recent blood transfusion. His wife, Mrs. Esther Brunscher was at his side at the end.

Brunschers death is specifically attributed to inflammation of the spinal cord. Recently he submitted to an operation for the removal of cartilages to remove the seat of infection. The operation was decided as a last resort to defeat the threatening total paralysis and infection of his entire system. For a time he rallied from the effects of the operation but in the last few weeks his strength waned gradually.

Brunscher was a resident of Martinez for six years and during that time made a host of friends. He was active in municipal affairs and at the last election at Martinez was named as a city trustee. He attended but one session of the board before he was stricken ill.

He was active in the Chamber of Commerce, church and fraternal circles. He was a member of the Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Modern Woodman and the Long Beach Lodge of Elks. Besides his widow his is survived by three brothers and two sisters, all residents of Kansas.

JURY FINDS GAINES GUILTY PEACE PLANS IN MEXICAN CHURCH WAR FAIL

PEACE PLANS OF MEXICAN CHURCH HEAD REJECTED

Compromise and Peace Without Victory Hopes Shattered By Statement

(By Universal Service)
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 19.—President Calles tonight rejected the proposal of Archbishop Mira y Del Rio for religious peace. The basis of the archbishops proposal was the suspension of recent restrictions pending congressional consideration of the entire question.

In a formal declaration published at the presidential residence, the president revealed a determination published at the presidential residence, the president revealed a determination to carry on the fight against what he characterizes as the "temporal power of the church in Mexico."

Whatever hope of a compromise and "peace without victory" which may have existed before tonight, the president's frank declaration that the administration policy constituted fair notice that such a solution is impossible.

Three El Cerrito Residents Fined On Booze Charge

Pleading guilty to charges of illegal possession of liquor three residents of El Cerrito appeared before Justice of the Peace Frank Glass in Martinez yesterday afternoon and were given the alternate of spending 400 days in the county jail or paying a $400 fine. The trio were arrested on Wednesday night in raids made at El Cerrito by the county dry squad under the direction of Clyde Laird, county dry chief.

The three are Mrs. Mary Nezio, 37, housewife, arrested at her home at 732 Elm street; Dominic Burracoom, 49, 1020 Liberty street; and Charles Buttinoni, 37, a blacksmith.

All were committed to the county jail pending payments of their assessments.

Prisoner Invents Lock for Box Car

(By Universal Service)
SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Aug. 19.—Having been forced to do his "bit" of four years for robbing box cars, Elmer Gloss used his spare moments to perfect a lock for freight cars that will not give way to easy tampering. The burglar-proof box car lock consists of a series of bars inside the door which may be released by a single handle.

An eastern car building company has inspected and approved a sketch of the lock, according to Warden Smith.

Judge Allows Woman 18 Months Alimony

(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Sally Obeas Abbott, daughter of Mr. Angeles, was granted a divorce here today from Attorney William Lindley Abbott by Superior Judge Louis H. Ward.

In granting the decree on grounds of mental cruelty, Judge Ward declared that he was not in favor of granting heavy alimony to young ex-wives who had no children and who are perfectly able to make a living for themselves.

Abbott's offer of $75 a month for 18 months was accepted by Mrs. Abbott who told the court "That she never had worked and could not earn her own living." The court expressed the opinion that 18 months was sufficient time to allow Mrs. Abbott to learn how to support herself.

George Scopoland of the Certain-Products company, has returned from a four-month vacation.

Investigation Of Anti-Saloon League Is Asked

Violation of the Corrupt Practices Act is Charged by Representative Tinkham

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Demanding that the Anti-Saloon League be brought before the grand jury and the courts to answer charges of violation of the corrupt practices act, was made by Representative George Holden Tinkham, Republican, of Boston today.

"If the Department of Justice does its duty, that is where the case should be settled," said Tinkham, replying to the assertion of Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the league, that the charges are "ridiculous."

In a recent letter to Attorney General Sargent, Tinkham asked that the league and its officers be criminally prosecuted for failure to render an accounting of league expenditures as an alleged political organization.

"The professional dry lobbyist, Wayne B. Wheeler, has replied to my charges of criminal offenses committed by his ecclesiastical political organization with characteristic personal abuse, evasion and mendacity," said Tinkham, adding:

"I do not intend to argue Mr. Wheeler's defense with him, when to a charge of criminal offenses his plea is that others are guilty of the same offenses. This is a complete confession of the crimes. 'Mr. Wheeler's statement that only a small part of the league's income is spent for political purposes' is so ludicrous and untrue according to his own admissions in his recently published syndicated articles, that all who read must be greatly amused at his eccentric sense of humor.

"Any statement made by Mr. Wheeler is much discredited by his recent forced admissions and defense of paying money from the secret funds of the Anti-Saloon League to senators and representatives for services when he was requesting legislative action from these same senators and representatives."

Ships Collide In Heavy Fog

(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—A fog bank hanging over the entrance to the Golden Gate was the cause of a collision between the Union Oil company's tanker, La Placencia, and the Williams Line freighter, Eagle, this morning.

The La Placencia, in-bound from San Pedro for Oleum, was rammed by the Eagle which was out-bound for Seattle. A ten foot hole was stove in the bow of the tanker while the Eagle sustained a hole in the starboard bow.

Both vessels were taken in two of tugs and returned to port for examination to determine the extent of damage and whether they were able to continue to their respective destinations.

Another Jury Is To Investigate McSwiggan Slaying

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Fifteen witnesses have been summoned to appear before the special Cook County Grand Jury tomorrow to tell what they know about the killing of Assistant State's Attorney William H. McSwiggan.

Along what lines they will be questioned and the testimony they may have to offer was not revealed by Special State's Attorney Charles A. MacDonald, who is in charge of the probe.

McSwiggan was killed by gangland machine gun fire on the night of April 27. The shooting occurred in front of a saloon in Cicero. Two gangsters, Thomas Duffy and James Doherty were killed by the same withering fire.

Three grand juries have already investigated the killings, but the questions "who killed McSwiggan and why?" remain unanswered.

When the average jazz Christian hears the trumpet of doom, he'll probably think it's a saxophone.

JOHN A. MILLER ENDORSED BY JUDGE ADVOCATE OF THE VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS
Department of California and Nevada
Office Of
The Department Judge Advocate
PAUL F. COLLINS
436A City Hall
San Francisco, California
August 4th, 1926.

Mr. John A. Miller,
Richmond, California.
My Dear Mr. Miller:

May I take this opportunity of expressing my complete satisfaction at your continued interest in those things pertaining to the upbuilding of the community of which you are a member. My attention has been called time and again, to the fact, that you have at all times been a good and tried friend of the ex-service men of Richmond, and that you have consistently worked for their interests and the interests of all ex-service men and women in Contra Costa County whenever the opportunity afforded. These good comrades who served their Nation in time of hostilities, shall go to the ballot box prepared to again preserve their prerogative and cast their votes for those candidates who have proven their ability to serve the community best. The many ex-service men and women of Contra Costa County, will not fail in this event, they appreciate your community spirit and interest, and they realize that in you, they have a friend who will continue on in that greater service to the State and Nation, ever ready to make bigger and better Americans of us all.

Sincerely,
PAUL F. COLLINS,
Department Judge Advocate,
Veterans of Foreign Wars,
Department California-Nevada.

MEXICO DEATHS NOT PART OF RELIGIOUS WAR

(By Universal Service)
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 19.—Three members of the House of Deputies were killed, former Gov. Tomas Garrido, of Tabasco, was wounded, and a newsboy is dying as the result of a pistol battle in crowded Francisco Madero street in mid-afternoon today.

Deputy Manuel Pedrero Luis, known as a "two gun man," fell to the sidewalk with his brains blown out, without a chance to draw either of his guns. Deputy Marcos Luis was shot through the stomach and lungs, while the newsboy received bullets in the abdomen, lungs and legs.

The battle on the crowded street was the outcome of the vituperant quarrel which has been raging between opposing factions in the Chamber of Deputies. There is no hint that it has any connection with the religious dispute between the church and the government.

Former Gov. Garrido, one of the seriously wounded participants in the battle, is a leader in the Obregon campaign.

Smile Nets Girl $25,000 in Will

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A smile from Miss Hannah Gruber, who lives five flights up in an Eldridge street tenement is worth $25,000. It was proved today.

Dr. Howard Lorraine, wealthy Chicago physician left her that in his will. Miss Lena Blume, secretary of the Chrystie street settlement house said that nine years ago when the physician was only a boys' group leader at the settlement the smiles and willingness to work of the then twelve-year-old Hannah attracted him to her.

Hannah, now twenty-one, will use the money as a dot to get married.

Miss Lillian Cottrill, city bacteriologist, has returned from her vacation spent in Washington and Oregon. Following a visit with her father, she joined Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Higgins, 347 South Fourth street, and Miss Zelma Higgins of the city manager's department on a motor trip to Portland, Mt. Hood, Seattle, Salem and Klamath Falls.

Permits Are Taken Out For 6 New Homes

Cottages to be Built by Local Realtors Indicate Faith in Growth of This City

Building permits amounting to $19,725 were issued yesterday by City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley. Of this amount, six are for the construction of new homes at a cost of $19,310.

Three permits were issued to the Bay Cities company to erect one-story cottages. One will be erected on the west side of McLaughlin avenue between Garvin and Esmond avenues at a cost of $3,200. The other two dwellings will be built on the north side of Gaynor avenue between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets. Each will cost $2,600.

E. P. Moore secured three permits for the construction of one-story cottages on the south side of Burbeck avenue between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets. One of the dwellings will cost $3,750 and the other two will cost $3,500 each. They will be built by the owner.

Minor permits were issued to E. H. Kueffer to make alterations costing $75 on a building on the south side of Macdonald avenue between Fifth and Sixth streets.

To John Dixon for alterations on a building on the south side of Macdonald avenue between Eleventh and Twelfth streets costing $500.

To C. B. Bottini to move a one-story cottage on the north side of Bissell avenue between Sixteenth and Seventeenth street to El Cerrito.

Attorney Is Threatened in Mellett Case

(By Universal Service)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 19.—Norman Clark, Canton, Ohio, attorney, was released on $15,000 bond today. He was arrested on a prohibition charge.

Clark yesterday charged Louis Mazer, held in connection with the killing of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, had threatened his life if he talked concerning the Mellett murder.

Bielaski's Fate To Be Determined

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The fate of A. Bruce Bielaski, New York lawyer who testified recently that he was paid $13,200 a year as personal representative of General Lincoln C. Andrews, dry czar, will be determined after Andrews' return from a week's vacation. It was understood today.

Andrews conferred today with Comptroller-General McCall, whose office is investigating charges that Bielaski violated the law by holding two federal jobs.

McCall has not yet received the report of this investigation. Andrews declared that Bielaski received no salary, being paid according to the amount of work done for the prohibition unit, out of an appropriation for purchase of evidence. He described Bielaski's work as "extremely valuable" to the unit.

Authorities Find Automobile Used In Theatre Robbery

MARTINEZ, Aug. 19.—An automobile, claimed by the authorities as being the one thieves used to transport a safe from the California Theatre in Pittsburg to a point in the hills where the strong box was rifled, was found in an Isleton garage last night by Deputy Sheriff Dick Joslin.

The deputy discovered the car after learning that a machine containing a man and woman, both colored, had been wrecked on the levee road to Stockton on Monday. It is thought that the driver, after learning of an arrest made in connection with the case in Oakland, was implicated in the theft and fled.

A battered sledge and a pry were found in the machine by Joslin. The machine, which has been abandoned, is registered to Jess Jarvis, Joslin declares.

OLNEY BUYS HOME
C. C. Olney, Richmond merchant, has purchased the Andrew Nelson home on Eleventh street and Roosevelt avenue and plans to occupy his new residence immediately. Nelson, proprietor of a grocery in San Rafael, plans to make his home in that city. He still retains his apartments and other property here.

SEATTLE JURY HOLDS FATHER IS FILICIDE

Gaines Unmoved as Jury Asks Death Penalty for Slayer of Daughter Sylvia

(By Universal Service)

SEATTLE, Aug. 19.—Recommending the death penalty, a jury of nine men and three women tonight found Wallace C. "Bob" Gaines guilty of first degree murder for the fiendish slaying of his daughter, Sylvia, a graduate of Smith College at Green Lake on June 16.

The jury reported shortly after returning from dinner.

Gaines was calm and unmoved as Judge Robert M. Jones read the verdict. As he was being taken back to the county jail Gaines remarked grimly, "God, this is a hard blow for me."

His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Gaines was unmoved but his brother, William A. Gaines chairman of the board of county commissioners, broke down and wept as the tragic words were read.

Defense counsel announced that they would file an appeal immediately.

Antioch Night to Be Held By Local Sciots Tonight

"Antioch night" will be featured by the Richmond Pyramid of Sciots this evening in the Richmond clubhouse and the Antioch Pyramid will provide the entertainment.

The Richmond Pyramid, under the direction of R. Hudson will provide the big "feed" for the guests.

A short session of the committee arranging plans for the show to be given at the California Theatre on September 21 by the Sciots and De Molay boys for the purpose of organizing a band, was held last night and it was reported that everything will soon be in readiness for this big event.

Passenger Hits Freight Train

(By Universal Service)
WOODWARD, Okla., Aug. 19.—Passengers on the crack Chicago-Los Angeles passenger Train No. 22 of the Santa Fe railroad were shaken up late today when the train crashed into a freight section near here. Neither train was derailed or damaged. Both proceeded on their way without delay. No one was injured, the train crews reported.

GUESTS AT CARQUINEZ

Guests registered at the hotel Carquinez last night included Max Lavey, Placerville; M. Grimes, San Francisco; Daniel Bachman, Bay Port, Minnesota; E. A. Key, Los Angeles and L. P. Langstrom, Fresno.

THE OUTLOOK

According to all reports the country as a whole is experiencing a period of unprecedented prosperity. Business is good in practically all lines and there are evidences of expansion in some of the larger industries.

One of the reasons most frequently given for this increase in business is the wise policy of the national administration which made further tax reduction impossible. This added reduction in the income tax field as was predicted by Secretary Mellon, is steadily releasing additional funds for use in productive enterprises and this is adding to the general demand for labor. Surveys being made by the government agencies indicate that further improvement is in sight.

The yield of wheat in the southwest has proved very satisfactory and there is every indication that the grain will command an increasingly good price during the balance of the year. It is a little too early of course, to do any predicting on the corn crop. If there is a good yield, however, as now seems likely, there is every reason for the prediction that the year will close with the majority of the farmers of the country in much better shape than they have been for some years past. Farmers who have been feeding their cheap corn into hogs, poultry and other livestock report profits which make the corn worth several times its market value in terms of bushels.

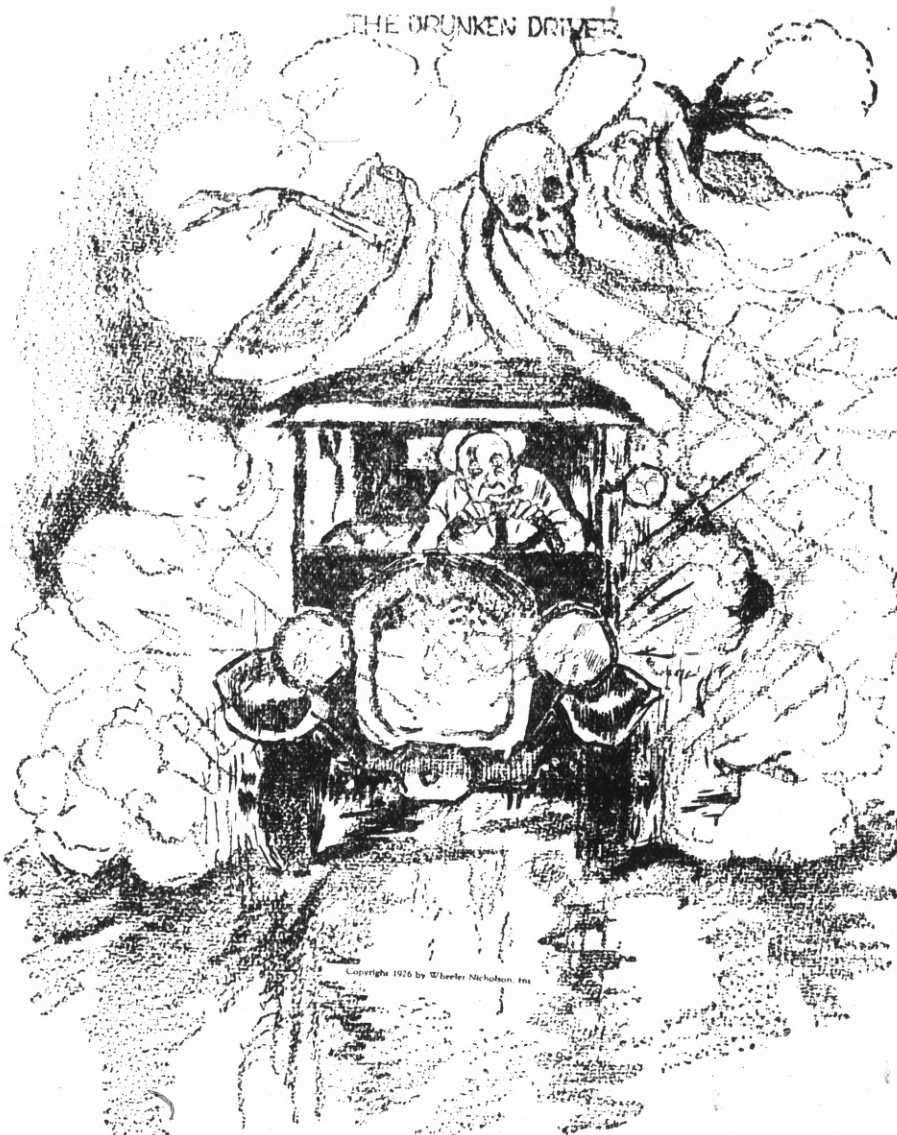

There is no reason just now to feel pessimistic regarding the immediate business future of the United States. The greatest danger to be discerned at this time is the possibility of gains in the house and senate by the radical blocks at the expense of the regulars in both old parties. If this comes about there might be an undermining of the public confidence. But it will not come about if the people can be induced to come out to the polls and vote.

RESISTING HOLD-UP MEN

A New York rookie policeman, off duty and taking the air with his girl friend in the park, was accosted by two young men, who thrust their automatics into his face and demanded his valuables. Nothing intimidated, the rookie thrust up his hands, but quickly brought them down again, with unfortunate results for one of the thugs. The cop's blackjack connected with the head of one of the thugs so effectively that he was easily captured. His companion ran away, but was caught later.

Such incidents, which are not uncommon, have helped to win for the Gotham police force a reputation for courage and presence of mind. They bespeak a careful system of selection and excellent training and discipline, the latter continuing virtually throughout the career of the policeman. It often has been pointed out that New York policemen have more the appearance of soldiers than police. Observers also have remarked that there is perhaps less officious interfering by the police with the personal liberties of citizens in New York than in almost any other large city.

The procedure of the rookie policeman, however, could scarcely be recommended in all cases of attempted hold-up, for it is a notorious fact that the gunman of today, unlike the professional of former times, usually is a callow youth, ether so much a novice as to be likely to fire in pure panic, or so irresponsible from drugs as to be utterly indifferent as to the necessity for, or consequences of his act.

What's In A Name?

Edward means "happy protection" or "rich guardian." In some form it has been popular all through Christendom for many centuries.

Edward was originally spelled Eadmund in the Saxon, and was the name of the King of East Anglia, who because he was the first victim of the invading Danes, was elevated to sainthood and his memory was revered for ages.

The most noted of all English appellations was Eadward, meaning the rich guardian. It first came into the royal line as the son of Alfred, whom the English people and St. Dunstan called a martyr. All parties were ready to elect St. Edward to be at patron saint of England and so it was only natural to give his name to the heir of the crown after the greatest of the Plantagenets. The death of his three children bearing Spanish and Norman names confirmed Edward as the royal name.

There are many different forms of this name: in Ireland it is Eamon; in Denmark, Jatmund; in France, Edmond, and in Italy the favorite form is Edmondo.

That Child Of Yours

By Ruth Matthews

"Dad, a dollar a week won't stretch. It isn't enough. I can't make it do, Dad, honest."

"But, Junior, that's four times what I had at your age. A quarter a week was my allowance, and it met all my spending needs generously."

"Yes, I know, Dad. Sodas cost a nickel apiece then. Now look at them. Not that I need many sodas, just once in a while when the other fellows stop in at the Greek's. I'm willing to carry a paper route, Dad, to get some more money, but you won't let me."

The father considered. "Would $1.10 do?" he inquired. "No, sir," replied Junior. "I don't think it would."

Father Asks Estimate
"Well suppose you write on a sheet of paper your estimate of necessary expenses, for next week. Son, and submit it to me," the father suggested. "Will that be fair?"

"Yes sir," replied the boy, who is in his first year at high school. "I'll show you in just a minute." Junior lives too far from school to return home for a warm lunch. In his father's time boys packed their lunches in paper parcels and ate them at their desks. In these days, the medical men have decided, growing children need warm and sustaining food in the middle of the day, which can be procured at cost at the high school restaurant.

And this conversation was the beginning of a budget for the boy. He set down the probable cost of his school lunches, averaging 16 cents a day for five days; two sodas came under the head of "entertainment," were listed at 30 cents, car fare two days for storm were set down at 20 cents, and under the item of "Other expense" the sum of 25 cents was listed. The total was $1.55.

Couldn't Seize It Down
"Couldn't you scale the 'other expense' item, Junior?" the parent asked.

"No sir. Not unless you and mother will permit me to work outside school hours," the lad replied firmly. "I need at least a quarter in my pocket to keep my self-respect."

And that's all of that story except Junior learned a splendid lesson about money values and his Dad, who really was the most generous of fathers but prudent in the matter of not "spoiling" his son, saw the justice of the lad's appeal.

Junior is a sophomore this year and has $1.75 a week. He hopes to find a job this vacation in his father's office.

So many of us are careless in the matter of being exactly just with our offspring.

BEAUTY HINTS

By Peggy Hopkins Joyce

The art of using cosmetics has so far advanced that it is a matter of prime importance in the eyes of the modern girl.

I should hate to have any one take this as an unqualified endorsement of the use of powders, rouge, and mascaras. I would rather see a girl entirely unpainted than so whitewashed and artificially beautiful that she resembles a painted puppet. Both are extremes which should be avoided.

By Lorene Bowman

"THEY SAY—"

When you are considering the opinion of your neighbors instead of your own, you are overlooking the most important. They may have very little opinion about you and your doings, anyhow. The dent you have made on them may be scarcely a noticeable impression. Much that they say about you may have no more claim for veracity than the predictions of the weather prophets.

Going to such homes scouting for their opinions is like going on an excursion in search of an accident. That is work or worry or both without accomplishment. But many women are like this, only more so. You may tread the married way some distance before you make a misstep, but you will find it mighty easy to do so if you take this pathway.

Above all never make your home a rendezvous for "cats." PROVERB: "It takes two to speak the truth—one to speak, and another to hear."—Thoreau.

ROSE COGHAN

On the door-bell of a house, in the great East Side of New York, you may read the name, "Mrs. J. SULLIVAN." I picture, in a little flat, lives a lady whose face is crossed with wrinkles, telling of many worries, of many sorrows.

But the light in her eyes is undimmed. This is the famous Rose Cogan.

Rose Cogan was born in England in 1853. From her earliest days, she gave promise of being a great actress. Quite early, she began her career as a soubrette, then as a leading lady in London and the provinces. In 1872, with the famous Lydia Thompson, she came to America and was immediately starred. From that moment, her success was assured. Audiences "went wild" over this new star. Honors upon honors were showered upon her for many years.

But after some years, she had had enough of the stage. She retired, became an American citizen in 1902, and went to Montana, where she raised cattle. This venture was not fortunate. She lost money and returned to New York.

No one knew of Rose Cogan's privations, until in 1922, Sam Harris, theatrical producer, organized a benefit performance at which $11,000 was raised. Rose Cogan is still beloved by her audience!

READ IT FIRST IN THE RECORD-HERALD

By JAMES J. DAVIS
(Secretary of Labor)

"No man is greater than his mother. For the things which really form character, which remain an ever-present influence throughout his life, are the things which he learns in his mother's arms and at his mother's knees."

"The faith and courage and hope implanted in the heart of a child by the brooding care of his mother are the true sources of a man's success, material, or spiritual. As I said in my book, 'The Iron Puddler':

"One of the most charming recollections of my childhood is that of my mother standing at our gate with a lamp in her hand, sending one boy out in the early darkness to his work and at the same time welcoming another boy. The memory of my mother singing has made my whole life sweet. When blue days came for me and hardships almost forced me to despair I turned my thoughts to her, singing, as she rocked a cradle, and from her spirit my heart took hope."

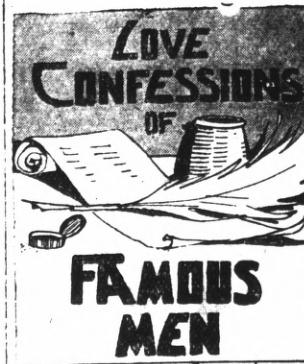

"My mother's songs were of the great influences of my life and they remain with me to this day. They were mostly hymns, hymns of praise of hope and of faith. In them lay the whole Christian philosophy of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. They breathed the very spirit of courageous warfare against evil and of victory over the things of the earth. In them there was nothing of faint-heartedness or of despair. I cannot visualize my mother singing aught that voiced discouragement and gloom."

"The spirit of those songs has lived with me all through the years and will be with me to the end of my life. They come to my memory unbidden when all things look dark and dismal about me. Whatever I have made of myself, or shall make myself in the future must be credited to the influence of my mother."

When the cat stays out all night and appears next morning all wet and bedraggled you can never tell whether he's been hunting—or fishing.

The reason some men don't bring home the bacon is because their credit isn't good at the meat market.

If you want to insure your success, remember that honesty is the best policy.

DARWIN'S COURTSHIP

Charles Darwin, whose theories of evolution and the origin of man caused a tremendous revolution in our civilization, should have approached marriage with an epochal seriousness, weighty deference and concentration of thought, one might believe.

The reverse is the case, however. In his work, an intellectual giant, as a lover he was subject to the afflictions, the naive bewilderments, and everyday embarrassments of many another swain. Read these extracts from his letters to his sweetheart, Emma Wedgwood, a cousin, before their marriage:

"November 23, 1838.—I positively can do nothing, and I have done nothing this whole week but think of you and our future life. . . . You may then well imagine how I enjoy seeing your handwriting. I should have written yesterday, but waited for your letter; pray do not talk of my waiting till I have time for writing or the inclination to do so. . . . It is a very high enjoyment for me, when I cannot talk to you and feel your presence by having your own dear hand within mine."

EMMA DARWIN

"November 20.—Pervers of sentimentality forgive me for sending such a letter. It surely ought to have been written on foolscap paper and closed with a wafer. I told you I should write to you as if you really were my own dear, dear wife and have I not kept my word stoutly? My excuse must be that I have seen no one for these two days; and what can a man have to say who works all morning in describing hawks and owls, and then rushes out and walks in a bewildered manner up one street and down another looking out for the words 'TO LET'?"

"January 26, 1839. The house is in such a bustle that I do not know what I write. I have got the RING which is the most important piece of news I have to tell."

"The railroad yesterday quite cured me. Before I came to Maer last time I was eager in my mind for the advantage of going straight home after the awful ceremony. You however made me just as determined on the advantages of not going straight home and now your last letter has just put me half-way between the two plans."

"This will give you hopes of my being a very docile husband, thus to become twice and absolute convert to your scheme."

THE ADVENTURES OF VIVIAN VANITY NO. 29.—"A Message"

Moved by the circumstances and by the act that the great Carl Brink was also interested, the commander gave Norman a berth on one of the cutters.

While on the "Mercury," Vivian was learning something of the ship's crew and cargo from Pina, now her devoted friend.

Seeing no opportunity of getting ashore, Vivian wrote a note concerning her whereabouts on the back of a photograph of herself, and put it in a bottle, which she threw into the sea.

GEIDE-CORDOZA NUPTIALS HELD IN BERKELEY

Miss Florence Geide, of El Cerrito, became the bride of Tony Cordoza, of Richmond, at a quiet home ceremony in Berkeley this week. The ceremony was performed by Judge G. Hickman, of Berkeley.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Geide lived in El Cerrito and her life is popular in the younger set of that town. The groom is the son of Mrs. Mary Cordoza, 2350 Garvin avenue.

The bride wore a white georgette frock trimmed in baby blue and a blue hat to match. She was given in marriage by her father. The couple are living at the home of the groom at the present time and will leave for their honeymoon next week to be spent in Shasta county.

They're talking of running Will Rogers for governor of Oklahoma. Will wouldn't be half as funny as some governors they've had.

W. B. A. WHIST HELD YESTERDAY IS BIG SUCCESS

The Women's Benefit association whist held yesterday afternoon in Memorial hall was a success, judging from the large crowd present. Prize winners were Mrs. Kony, first; Mrs. Wallace Snell, second; Mrs. Dunn, third and Mrs. K. Hepman, consolation. The door prize was won by Mrs. N. Matthews.

Those in charge of arrangements for the party were Mrs. C. E. Carlson, Mrs. Lolita Downey and Mrs. Dukenshire.

MIRAMAR CHAPTER WILL INITIATE

A class initiation will be featured by the Miramar Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, this evening in the Masonic hall. A social will follow and the new members of the chapter will be guests of honor at this affair.

The committee in charge includes Mrs. Velma Quinn, chairman; Mrs. Margaret Paisely; George Paisely, Mrs. Bertia Perry, Mrs. Sarah Schneider and Mrs. Eleanor Vaughn. All members of the Eastern Star are invited to attend this session.

ECLIPSE LODGE TO STAGE WHIST

Final plans have been completed for the candidates whist party to be given on Saturday night, August 28 at the Odd Fellows hall by the Eclipse lodge. Wallace Snellgrove, assisted by a large committee is in charge of the affair.

Railroads Break Traffic Records

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—American railroads broke all existing freight traffic records during the first six months of 1926, with 227,116,889,000 ton miles, the bureau of railway economics announced today.

This was 1,632,421,000 ton miles more than the best previous record made in the first half of 1923. The volume in June amounted to 39,236,630,000 ton miles, a record for that month.

The number of cars loaded with revenue freight during the first six months of this year also broke all previous records. Freight traffic moved during the period exceeded the volume for the first six months last year by 69 percent.

Promoter Sentenced On Check Charge

(By Universal Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—No longer the brisk promoter of other years, Abraham White, of Cohoes, said to have made $850,000 in 1907 through an expenditure of forty six cents in postage as successful bidder to dispose of $10,000,000 issue of city bonds, was remanded to the Tombs for lack of $225 today.

He was indicted on a grand larceny charge. It is alleged he gave a check to an apartment-hotel manager for $225 which was marked worthless.

ERUPTION IS SEEN IN THE BEERING SEA

(By Universal Service)

CORDOVA, Alaska, Aug. 19.—A volcanic eruption which could be seen for many miles, occurred on the island of Bogosloff in the Behring Sea on Wednesday afternoon, according to a wireless message received at the United States Naval radio station at St. Paul Island from the Japanese freighter Yokohama Maru.

The Yokohama Maru was eleven miles distant from the island when eruption was first sighted at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The eruption, the commander stated, continued for thirty minutes.

The coast guard cutter Haida, attached to the Behring Sea patrol, left Dutch Harbor at 8 o'clock last night under orders to investigate the eruption at Bogosloff and to continue to Umnak and Atku.

The Bogosloff Islands are about 45 miles northwest of Dutch Harbor and between 80 and 90 miles north of the Aleutian group of islands. The Bogosloff group is composed of two islands narrowly separated. They appeared following a great Arctic upheaval some years ago.

In 1906 at approximately the same time as the San Francisco earthquake, a violent eruption occurred, changing the shape of the two islands. Atku is an island in the same group as the Bogosloff and Umnak island is about 30 miles south of the Bogosloffs.

Andrews to War On Rum Smuggling On Northern Border (By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Drastic international measures to close up the gaps through which thousands of gallons of liquor poured into this country from Canada, were foreseen here today, as General Lincoln C. Andrews left for a week's vacation at Lake Champlain, N. Y.

Andrews is seeking to arrange a conference with Canadian officials following his vacation. To perfect a "working arrangement" to smash border smuggling, it is understood.

This smuggling carried out on a scale in the Detroit area and to lesser extent at other border points, is regarded by top officials as one of the biggest problems still unsolved.

A conference between President Coolidge and Andrews at White Pine Camp, during the week Andrews will be in New York state, was regarded as likely, although so far as could be learned this had not been arranged before Andrews left.

Americans Build Big Air Traffic Across Europe

By WILLIAM HILLMAN

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Americans are building up a great commercial air traffic between France and England, and in other sections of Europe. They are making possible the development of great aerial lines between several of the most important cities. They are doing this not with capital or by personal enterprise but by travel.

American tourists are rapidly becoming the mainstay of many European air travel concerns. They outnumber the flying passengers of all other nations and have been called by the head of one of the greatest commercial aviation unities in England as "the greatest aerial travellers in the world."

"In our present summer traffic," said an official of the Imperial Airways today, "American visitors continue to outnumber all other nationalities flying. More and more Americans are going from London to Paris and from Paris to London are deserting earth for air."

But the German air travellers are fast increasing in numbers. "If Americans are the keenest of the air tourists, the Germans are the most methodical," said an air official.

"A striking fact is the widespread and methodical way in which German travellers are abandoning the railway for airway. Germany is covered by a network of air-lines. America heads the list in pleasure flying, but German passengers are making the greatest business use of the air."

"So far as Britain is concerned an encouraging sign is the increase in the number of business men making use of the airway. English women fly more often than their men folk and seem to enjoy every moment they are aloft."

Marriage is about the only thing that can keep a man and woman from being good friends. Since it's the fashion to have bargain sales, why don't hospitals have certain days to perform operations at cut rates. If New York does away with the hotel house detective who will help the guests find the waiters when they're needed?

GEN FENG HAS CHANGED PLAN ABOUT WORKING

(By Universal Service)

MOSCOW, Aug. 19.—There are many things about which the Christian General Feng Yu Hsiang, former chief of the Chinese national armies, on mysterious sojourn here, hasn't made up his mind. But there are two points on which he is definitely certain.

The first is, that he is still alive, in spite of the rumors of his assassination that are circulating in China. The second is, that he isn't going to work any seven years in any Soviet factory, as he announced he intended doing in an interview given out at Urgan.

Perhaps he won't even work a week in a Red factory, for after all, the weather is hot and a Chinese general remains a Chinese general, even if he has given up his army and left the field. Besides, beyond Moscow lies Paris and the Christian general meditates behind a well-oiled Buddhist smile on the pleasures of that capital.

Feted by Russians. Feted by the Russians, General Feng Yu Hsiang remains aloof from newspaper correspondents. He appears on the Red Square with Premier Rykoff and the leading Soviet celebrities, and reviews a parade of the "pioneers"—organization of Communist children—with his own flock of three sons and a daughter around him.

He rides through the streets of Moscow in a government automobile, his round face beaming. To his quarters in the Hotel Europa come young Chinese with inscrutable faces. They fill the lobby and overflow into the street, standing about in motionless groups, talking in sing-song conspiring tones. Boys and girls they are from the Sun Yat Sen communist university just around the corner and down the street, where youths from China are grounded in the principles of communism at the expense of the Soviet government.

Accompanying them are men from the Hotel Lux, headquarters of the Communist International, German, English, Irish, and American agitators. Much talk seems to be going on. But it is all done behind closed doors, and the Christian general isn't giving out any words for the public prints.

"You see, Feng Yu Hsiang is just a private citizen now. No longer has he any political significance," explains the secretary, young Mr. Li who has just returned from England. "But perhaps you could let me chat with the general for a few moments. He is a very famous personage, even if he has given up all political activities. There's nothing the American people like so much as a good fighter—" suggests your correspondent.

Fishing Breaks Up Regular Habits Of the President

(By Universal Service)

PAUL SMITHS, N. Y., Aug. 19.—President Coolidge was one of the most punctual men in the world—until he started fishing. Now, Catherine Buckley, the White House Cook, never knows whether he will be in for a hot or warmed over dinner.

Presidential attaches could always tell the time of day by the president's movements. He breakfasts at 7:30, takes up the newspapers at 8, tackle his mail at 9, begins to receive visitors at 10, dines at 1, rest an hour, takes up his work again at 3, strolls, at 5, dines at 7 and retires usually at 10 o'clock.

But since he arrived here, his fondness for fishing has caused him to miss his 7 o'clock dinner several times. In fact, he fished until 8:45 o'clock one night, much to the despair of the White House cook, who is a model of exactness. His fishing, however, has not been allowed to interfere with his routine of work.

Claims U. S. Will Withdraw From The Philippines

(By Universal Service)

CEBU, P. I., August 19.—At a luncheon here today to Carmi A. Thompson, who is investigating conditions in the islands, Sergio Osmeña, member of the Philippine legislature, said that President Coolidge had told him the United States intended to withdraw from the Philippines and wanted him to assist in making the islands self-supporting.

In a course of his address, Osmeña stated the President had said: "We are going to withdraw from the Philippines but do not intend to leave you with limited resources. We want to assist you in promoting your economic development and provide you with sufficient resources to make you self-supporting."

"It is high time for the administration to show its interest in your people's welfare. I cannot do better than by sending a man in whom I have absolute confidence to see what can be done to help develop your country's resources."

Death Gun Diary Being Checked In Hall-Mills Case

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Relentless search to learn the identity of the writer of the "death gun diary" in the famous Hall-Mills murder mystery was in full swing here tonight.

Six charred and burned pages scrawled in a feminine hand and found in a trash can, provided the clue upon which police and detectives were working.

The diary set forth that the writer's husband had possessed the revolver with which the double murder had been done and had sold it for $1,500.

Police admitted that the badly written record might prove to be merely a hoax. There was the chance, however, that identification of the writer might lead to recovery of the missing weapon and forge a mighty link in the chain of evidence.

The blackened pages were rushed by Chief of Detectives Henry G. Pratt to the Somerville, N. J., authorities. Meanwhile all persons living in the vicinity of where the diary was found were being questioned.

Elsie Benton, 16-year-old business college student, snatched the remains of the diary from a blazing can of rubbish in the rear of an apartment house at Takoma park, a Washington suburb.

Staring at the writing, the words "Hall-Mills case" caught her eye. The date "1922" appeared at the top of some of the pages.

According to the fragments of writing, "he" presumably the writer's husband, had either witnessed the murders or had been at the scene immediately afterward and had secured the death weapon.

The diary revealed that "he" had kept the revolver for some time after the investigation of the murders had begun. Long afterward some person, not named in the writing, had approached him to turn over the weapon, and, according to the diary, it was sold for $1,500. There the record ended.

The closely written pages recited other information about the love affairs of the slain pastor and Mrs. Mills. Words were badly misspelled and principals in the case were referred to by their Christian and "nick-names."

Miss Benton turned the diary over to her mother, Mrs. E. R. Benton who at once took it to the police. The pages were part of a booklet of at least thirty pages, police believed.

Significant, police pointed out, was the fact that the pages were dry, although it had rained only two hours before the diary was found.

Then leave the law to proceed against the author, for instance, for sedition or for blasphemy. "I am not sure that authors should not be licensed. I am certain that many journalists should be. I think theatres might be licensed as we license public houses. If a County Council Committee, for instance, reported that the St. James Theatre of Drury Lane should lose its license, do you suppose it would be possible to get a majority of councillors to endorse such a recommendation, unless it were quite exceptional a case which any ordinary body of citizens, acting without prejudice of any kind, could not possibly pass by?"

"If the censorship would concern itself with these matters it would concern itself with something which does far more danger than numerous plays, which are usually so dull that I doubt if anybody would go to see them if they had not been suggested that they ought not to go."

"The censorship is an attempt to extend to the profession of the dramatist a control which exists in respect to other professions. I do not see how we can claim to be exempt from that kind of control. If a lawyer does anything outrageous he can be struck off the rolls. If a doctor does anything outrageous he can be struck off the register."

"But somehow in the case of dramatists there is no kind of regular control. We are in a condition which we are treated like rogues and vagabonds, which some of us probably are, and there is set over us, as in the case with other rogues and vagabonds, a 'respectable' sort of person who is given the extreme power which is not applied to any ordinary profession. He ties our hands behind us so that we cannot do things we might do if our hands were not tied. The censorship does not wait until a play is performed and

REAL HEROES TO BE SEEN IN THE LOST BATTALION

"Go-to-Hell" Whittlessey and all of the surviving members of the world-famous Lost Battalion, that was surrounded in a "pocket" in the Argonne Forest for six days and nights will reenact on the screen all the historic events of their six days' imprisonment at the California Theatre in "The Lost Battalion," which opens for two days. Widespread interest has been created in this picture by reason of the fact that it is authentic and was re-enacted by the actual survivors. Many of the doughboys will go to the Richmond and will go to the California to see their buddies make their debut as screen actors, reenacting the brave parts they played in the "pocket." All of the original documents, including the curt message from the German commander to Lieut. Col. Whittlessey, calling for him to surrender, were used in filming this picture. "Cher Ami" the carrier pigeon that lost an eye and one leg in the flight from the "pocket" with the message that brought relief, also re-enacts its flight and is also shown with the distinguished soldier cross it received at the hands of Gen. John Pershing.

Other features on the same program include "Fresh Faces," a Walter Hires comedy; "Then and Now," a screen novelty; "International News," and Larry Canelo, at the organ.

First Issue of Hi-Nus Appears

Mrs. E. Jennings and Miss Anna Moss have returned from Sacramento where they attended the funeral services for Mrs. Jennings' cousin, Mrs. Lou Crowell.

Chambers Adopt National Code of Business Ethics

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Indicating marked progress in the establishment of "self-government" in business, 813 chambers of commerce and trade associations have adopted the code of business ethics formulated by the United States Chamber of Commerce, it was announced today.

The code has been adopted by organizations in every state in the union, including 114 in New York, 74 in Illinois and 68 in Pennsylvania. American chambers of commerce in foreign countries have also adopted the code.

Pointing out the need for such a code as a guide to business a statement issued by the chamber said:

"It is realized that the adoption of the principles is only the first step. The important purpose is to secure their observance."

"While it is not possible to evolve a successful plan of rigid enforcement, the national chamber is pledged to a continuance campaign of education in the hope that all business philosophy which the principles set forth."

Alaska Townsite Has Been Abandoned

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Reported valueless as a townsite, a tract of several square miles in Susitna Valley, Alaska, was restored to the public domain today, by an executive order, the Department of Interior announced. The land was designated as "Susitna Townsite" in 1914 when the Alaskan railroad was under construction.

George Jamieson, Hazel Jamieson and Ernest Jennings are enjoying a two weeks trip to Los Angeles.

Kellogg Shows Mrs. Kellogg the 'Ole Swimmin' Hole

(By Universal Service)
PAUL SMITHS, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg today showed Mrs. Kellogg the blueberry patches where he played as a boy.

Kellogg is identified in the public mind as a westerner, because of his service in the senate from Minnesota, but he was, in fact, born at Potsdam, N. Y., forty miles north of here.

When a few months old, his family moved to Long Lake, near here, where he lived until he was eight. He and Mrs. Kellogg motored there today, saw the boyhood scenes and also visited his cousin, Surgeon Judge Henry Kellogg. They will leave White Pine Camp for Washington tomorrow.

Mrs. Persico to Build Four Homes

At a cost of $20,000, Mrs. Theresa Persico is planning the construction of four modern one-story cottages. Three of them will be built at Twenty-first street and Grant avenue and the other will be on Twenty-first street north of Grant avenue.

Contract for building the houses has been awarded to C. Washbaugh.

R. U. H. S. Senate Holds Session

The first meeting of the senate of the Richmond High school student body took place yesterday morning with the new president, George Gordon in charge.

Miss Gertrude Wood was elected clerk of the body upon the recommendations of B. X. Tucker. Boosts for a larger membership in the student body were given by President Gordon and two members of the football squad, who explained the cost of a football season.

(By Universal Service)
PAUL SMITHS, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Owen D. Young, co-author of the Dawes plan for Germany, will visit President Coolidge here on Saturday. Young has also been mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for United States senator in this state against Senator Wadsworth, who will be here tomorrow. But Young "just happens to be motoring past" and his visit has nothing to do with politics, it was said at the summer White House.

TIGER FLOWERS WINS DECISION IN FIFTEEN ROUNDS

TIGER FLOWERS DEFENDS TITLE AGAINST GREB

By DAMON RUNYON
(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Old Deacon Theodore Flowers called "The Tiger," a praying fighting man from Georgia, knelt in his dressing room and said his prayers last night, and then went into Madison square garden and defended his title of middleweight champion of the world against Harry Greb of Pittsburgh from whom the deacon won the title. The dark Georgian got the decision at the end of fifteen rounds of wild flurrying and glove throwing.

There was a tangle of arms from start to finish. There was some booing over the decision but most of the 11,000 spectators seemed to think that it was fair enough.

The deacon turned a flip-flop in the ring and then returned to his dressing room to kneel again in thanks. He is a devout man, the deacon. This was his third victory over Greb. The deacon once got an unofficial award over the Pittsburgh windmill out in Fremont, Ohio; and Greb came to New York telling of the deacon's powers. Flowers was apparently as fresh at the finish as at the opening gong. He remains the pugilist marvel of the day.

The Georgia Deacon Retains His Title

Tiger Flowers kept his promise last night to let Harry Greb have another crack at the title. Harry took his crack and like the first bout in February the Georgia Deacon outpointed him in fifteen rounds. This almost means "curtains" for Greb. Before the fight last night Flowers, the gentleman of color, was presented with the diamond studded championship belt by the Sporting Writers' Club.

DANCE TO BE HAPPY

LONDON, August 19.—"Dance into middle-age if you want to keep healthy and retain your good looks." That, in effect, is the advice tendered to women by Dr. Letitia Fairfield, the noted English woman doctor and authority on hygiene.

"The tennis-playing dancing young professional woman of today has a much better chance of an alert middle age," Dr. Fairfield said in a lecture here.

Basing her conclusions on a twelve year study of London school teachers, Dr. Fairfield thinks there is no reason to think that employment in the brain-working occupations outside the home has any detrimental effect on women's bodies or minds.

"Anemia and debility are the chief reasons for women spending long periods away from business," she said. "In the teaching profession, for instance, it is three times as common as among men teachers. Lack of exercise, fresh air, and sunshine are common causes of these ailments in young town dwellers, but another cause of debility is too long a journey to work.

"Diet gets less attention from the modern young woman. I have found that a very important factor in the health of young women is a hot, fairly substantial meal at mid-day," Dr. Fairfield added. She attributed some of the anemia troubles to silly fads and fears about food, remarking that observation should always be kept for the "no breakfast fadist."

"In the matter of digestion women workers' health is rapidly improving," she said. "Two defects of hygiene may be suspected. One, lack of physical exercise, in common in the older women, who rarely played games in girlhood and had no opportunity of keeping them up after leaving college.

"The second common error is the omission of fresh vegetables from the diet and thinking that fresh fruit is a complete substitute. Chronic indigestion and dyspepsia seem to be diminishing among women," Dr. Fairfield declared. "The typical pink nosed old maid, with her bottle of bismuth mixture and flow of confidences is happily on the way to extinction."

Fall from Three Quarter Nelson
Black has obtained the three quarter nelson on White by thrusting right arm under White's chest, using the right hand as a leverage for the half nelson secured with the left hand. Black can then draw White's head toward him and raise White's left arm with his own left forearm and push against White's left side with his left shoulder and fall with whole weight forward. White will then be on his back and will bridge as shown in lower cut, but Black can force him down for a fall.

Astor Cup Races To Be Held Today

(By Universal Service)
NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 19.—Hundreds of vessels of the New York yacht clubs are in this harbor tonight preparing for the classic of tomorrow, the annual Astor cup races, and the Kings cup races to be sailed here Friday. The fleet headed for this port and from New London tonight is becalmed in the sound.

Teacher: "Can any little boy or girl tell me what made Columbus famous?"
Bright Scholar: "No, Ma'am; but I kin tell you what made Cleveland."

SCHOONER LYNX IS WINNER OF N.Y.Y.C. RACE

(By Universal Service)

NEWPORT, R. I., August 19.—Lynx, the new schooner, owned by Commodore Nat. Aver, of the Eastern Yacht club, surprised the marine chronic tonight, by winning the first squadron run of the New York Yacht club's annual regatta, from New London to this port. It was a long, tedious race, marked by light winds and calms, with rain showers adding to the miseries of the yachtsmen.

Lynx crossed the finish line, off Breton Reef, as the shades of night were falling, with a light wind filling her sails, her official finish time being 8:11:43. At that time Regatta was leading Vanities by a wide margin, and both of the crack schooners were far from the finish line.

A fine fleet of 37 starters crossed the line off New London with a fair sailing breeze from the eastward swelling them along, but after they were well on the way on the course of 37 and one-half miles, the wind flattened badly, and left most of the fleet hung up in the doldrums. Late in the afternoon most of the racing yachts quit the tedious grind and went on under power or took tows for Newport.

The exceptions were Lynx, which was making her first racing start, Resolute, and Vanities, which sailed far to the southward in Block Island Sound, and always had some little air in their sails. The Lynx was the only one of the smaller schooners to take this course and this probably won the race for her.

"Miss California"

Miss Aloha Porter of Venice, Cal., has been selected as "Miss California" for 1926, and will represent that state in the Atlantic City beauty contest to determine who will have the title of "Miss America" for 1926. ### Tentative Grid Schedule For R. U. H. S. Made

A schedule for the Richmond High school football team is rapidly assuming shape, according to Coach Ivan Hill. So far some of the foremost teams in the bay regions have been lined up to meet the local high school. The schedule as far as lined up by Hill and Howard Nicholson, athletic manager is as follows:

September 3, Tech, Home, 4:00 p. m.
September 10, University, Away, 4:00 p. m.
September 17, Oakland, Away, 4:00 p. m.
September 24, St. Mary's Prep, Home, 4:00 p. m.
October 2, Fremont, Away, 2:00 p. m.
October 8, Berkeley, Home.
October 16, Sacramento, Away, 2:30 p. m.
November 6, S. R. M. A., Away.

Speaking of the telephone, a party line is no picnic.

Jack Dempsey Is Confident

Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, arrived in New York recently from Indianapolis. He was accompanied by his wife, the former Estelle Taylor. Dempsey stated he had come here to complete arrangements for his bout with Gene Tunney and that he saw no real obstacles to the fight which will be held at Yankee Stadium, September 16. Photo shows, left to right: Tex Rickard, Jimmy De Forest, Jack Dempsey, Mrs. Dempsey and Eugene Normile, Dempsey's new manager.

LEGIONAIRES PROTEST I. W. W. SCHOOL IN ARK.

(By Universal Service)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 19.—The American Legion of Arkansas today launched a battery of protest against an alleged I. W. W. school which is maintained at Mena, Ark. The state legion convention began yesterday.

The legion charged that Anarchy, Sovietism, Free love and other teachings—all un-American—are fostered at the school.

The institution has gained fame throughout Arkansas and neighboring states as a commonwealth school where radical theories, under such exponents as Kate O'Hara are given free rein.

The legion charged that the school is actually maintained by the International Workers of the World and is partially financed by the Russian Soviet government. The legionnaires urged that the full power of their organization be hurled against the school, in all ways including the state legislature, which was urged to pass a law against the school.

Discussion became so heated today that the state commander and the leaders asked all outsiders to leave the hall. The delegates and officers then went into an executive session where the matter was further discussed.

One ex-soldier charged that male and female students are allowed to mix too freely. Another speaker charged that boy and girl students were allowed to bathe in nearby streams, without bathing suits.

Fannie Hurst Being Sued For Stealing Plot

(By Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—Fannie Hurst, noted writer, Famous Players-Lasky, Weekly, Liberty Weekly, Inc., and others are named defendants in a $500,000 lawsuit filed today in Superior court today by Oliver W. Seymour, a scenario writer.

In her complaint Miss Seymour alleges that a $50,000 prize scenario, which Fannie Hurst was credited with having written, and which was released under the title of "Mannecin", was plagiarized from a synopsis and scenario written by herself.

The plaintiff alleges that she submitted a scenario entitled "The Scoundrel" to the defendants in May, 1925. Last October it was returned to her, and afterwards used under the name of "Mannecin" according to the complaint.

Miss Seymour declares the story she submitted was her own original creation, and alleges that the photograph "Mannecin" is identical with her story as to subject, material, plot, dialogue and structure.

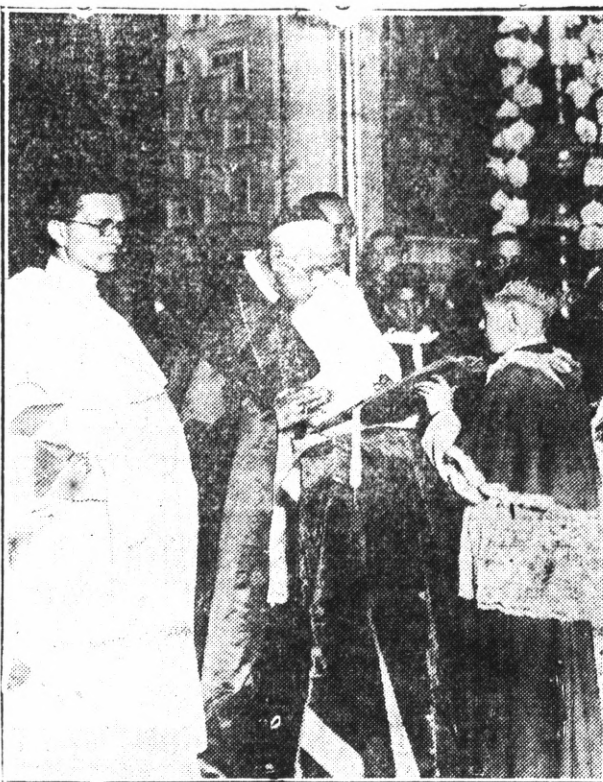

In her complaint, filed through Attorneys Morton, Turner, Hamilton & Morton, Miss Seymour alleges that by the use of her story under another name she has been damaged to the extent of $500,000.

She asks for an injunction to restrain the defendant from showing the picture and demands an accounting of all proceeds and profits received from the use of the story.

RUM PACT TO BE SOUGHT WITH CANADA

(By Universal Service)

PAUL SMITHS, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Avoiding all chances of a serious fight in the Senate, where clashes between the wets and dries have provoked intense bitterness, President Coolidge today approved a new policy of "agreements" between the United States and foreign countries to stop the inflow of smuggled liquor.

Secretary of State Kellogg, following a long conference with the President, publicly confirms today the reports from Washington that he will soon seek to effect an "agreement" with Canada similar to the "agreement" recently completed with Great Britain by General Lincoln C. Andrews, the prohibition czar.

Upon his return to Washington, Kellogg will ask Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador, to invite Canada to an official meeting to stop the rum leaks through which enormous quantities of bootleg liquor are flowing across the northern border.

Canada was the first country with which the United States made an anti-smuggling treaty. Despite it, liquor is pouring here in an almost unbroken stream. The upper frontier is as wet as a sponge. This rum trade is so large as to produce a burning political issue in Canada, one wing rejoicing that American booze money is building new highways and schools and reducing taxes in Canada while the other asserts that Canada will lose the respect of the world unless she stops flaunting the laws of a neighborly and friendly country.

The situation leaves America's enforcement chiefs down in the mouth. They expect they will have to get a fool-proof pact with Canada or hopelessly admit their inability to check the consumption in this country of liquors which bear the seal of Canadian Government.

England in the recent "agreement" with Andrews, promised to tip the United States on the departure of rum fleets from the Bahamas and other rendezvous of the rum-row gangs. Kellogg and Andrews hope that Canada will now "agree" to post them on the movements of liquor cargoes both from Canadian ports and near frontier resorts.

Unlike treaties, these "agreements" can be put into operation without the approval of the Senate. If treaties were negotiated, the administration fears they would produce in the Senate a never ending debate on the burning topic of day—prohibition—and develop senatorial enmities which might jeopardize the Coolidge program on all other important subjects.

With Senators "Jim" Reed, Edge and Bruce on one side, and Borah, Walsh and other redoubtable fighting the cause of the dries the country might be treated to a major forensic display, but the administration believes that the treaties would be lost sight of in the resulting whirlwind of oratory on the merits and demerits of prohibition.

Original Mrs Grundy Is Now Being Sought

(By Universal Service)

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Who was the original Mrs. Grundy, that mythical modern censor of Anglo-Saxon morals? Ernest Law, historian and authority on everything appertaining to Hampton Court Palace, professes to have identified her as the housekeeper of the Palace in the late forties and early fifties of the last century. He explains: "Her fame is perpetuated in a dark space—one of the mystery chambers of Hampton Court Palace—the door of which is rarely opened, and which is still known as Mrs. Grundy's Gallery."

"Here she impounded any picture of sculpture which she considered unfit for exhibition in the State Rooms and here she kept them under lock and key in defiance of the authority and protests of the Queen's Surveyor of Pictures. No entry, no permission would ever induce Mrs. Grundy to let anyone as much as peer into her gallery, still less penetrate it."

"The story goes on that on one occasion the First Commissioner of Works, on a visit of inspection, noticed a closed door and asked what it led to."

"That is Mrs. Grundy's Gallery," replied the clerk in awe-stricken tones, and he had no key to admit him. So Mrs. Grundy was sent for."

"In answer to the First Commissioner's request, she declined to open the door."

"But I am one of her Majesty's Ministers and I have authority over the structure of the Palace," said the Commissioner.

"I cannot help that, sir," replied Mrs. Grundy, "only on an order signed by the Lord Chamberlain of her Majesty's Household can I allow anyone to enter my gallery."

"History does not record the eventual result, though the Minister did not get in on that occasion, but in the century-old struggle between the office of Works and the Lord Chamberlain's Department, some forty years after her death the First Commissioner succeeded in having the occupation of Mrs. Grundy's Gallery transferred to his department to be used for stores."

"Some thirteen years afterwards the treasures were gradually brought forth and the pictures hung in the State Rooms, notably Caricini's beautiful 'Venus Reclining' recently identified as having belonged to the famous Venetian collector Andrea Vendramin, from a drawing in his catalogue of 1627."

"It was not until 20 years ago that a leaden statue of Venus, which had been sent from Windsor Castle and was stored in Mrs. Grundy's Gallery, was brought forth to adorn Henry VIII's Pond Garden."

It is believed to be certain, however, that when congress convened this policy of the administration in bargaining through "agreement" rather than treaties, which would provide open discussion, will be earnestly challenged.

Perfect Chorus Girl Will Be Married Soon

(By Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—If perfection in one thing means perfection in another then Betty Shady, the "perfect chorus girl," might make a perfect wife for Ballard McDonald, prominent song writer and theatrical producer, whom they are married at Del Norte next week.

Betty Shady was last seen in Los Angeles in Harry Carroll's "Pickles," and she was named the "perfect chorus girl" by Tom Wilkes, local producer. The forthcoming event will be her first appearance in a matrimonial role.

McDonald is the producer of "Monkey Business" at the Majestic Theater, and his play, "Le-mare's Affairs," is said to be a great success in Chicago. He has made two previous attempts to solve matrimonial problems, neither of which were entirely successful. His second wife, Grace Fisher, divorced him several months ago.

C. E. Peterson, director of athletics at the San Diego State Teachers college, will address the first rally of the year at the Roosevelt Junior High school this morning. The rally will begin at 10 o'clock. Peterson is visiting W. L. Schwartz, athletic director at the Junior high school.

A. M. DeSoto, master welder at the Avon plant of the Associated Oil company, has resigned his position to accept a similar post with the Standard Oil company at the local refinery.

Swedish Women Adopting "Bob"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—So many women are storming the barber shops of Sweden to have their blonde tresses bobbed that a rich new market has been opened for American hair cutting equipment and supplies, the Commerce department announced today.

Two years ago many Swedish barbers were in the ranks of the unemployed, according to a report from Consul General Dawson at Stockholm. Then came the wave of "bobbing" and Sweden had to import barbers from other countries.

And the women demand all the modern "fixings."

Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Read have returned to Richmond from their honeymoon and have taken their residence at 60 Scenic boulevard. The couple motored to Yosemite Valley and then visited in Monterey with Read's parents.

Secrets of the Bath

"Here's the secret. All any woman asks is pure soap and plenty of steaming hot water when she wants it, morning, noon or night. My Hot Water Bath is ready—simply by turning the hot water faucet and letting the flow fill the tub, brimful if I wish. 'I wouldn't be without an Automatic Gas Water Heater. It's so convenient—and the cost is so trivial.'"

Buy the modern automatic water heater, that will give you years and years of Perfect Service. There is a type adapted to your home.
